

AVVA Website Committee Report

APRIL 2026

There has not been much activity recently on the website. I have not yet received any information about the upcoming Leadership Conference and Annual Meeting beyond what is posted on the site, on the "Leadership Conferences" page. When I receive anything more it will be posted ASAP.

I have been contemplating some functionality changes on the website which would possibly improve things. I have become aware that there are some people who do not realize that they can scroll downward and find all of the links to information that do not appear in the "Main Menu" strip near the top of the home page. There are labeled columns which contain links to pretty much everything you may want lower down in the home page than might immediately appear on your screen, without scrolling. In case that has been a problem for you, just try scrolling the next time you sign on.

I would like to find a web building software program to change to that is more modern and more universally understood (for the sake of the future), but am having trouble finding one with both ease of use, transferability, and reasonable annual cost. I will keep looking.

I hope everyone is safe and as happy as possible. Till next time. 😊
